

Welcome to the State Farm® Teen Driver Safety Website. You'll find research-based tools for teens who are learning to drive, as well as tools for parents who are teaching teens to drive.

As you probably know, all states currently require new drivers to complete a graduated driver licensing program. For that reason, our tools have been designed to supplement these state programs and coordinate with the various phases of licensing.

Many states require a minimum number of supervised driving hours prior to getting a license. Road Trips is a free, online tool that helps teens and parents reach that goal in a way that maximizes the quality, diversity and efficiency of the practice drives.

With Road Trips, you can plan your drives, watch tutorial videos, print tip sheets and log your drives – all at your own pace.

Another great feature of Road Trips is that users are able to invite others to mentor a teen driver so that the group has a shared experience.

Road Aware is a free, online tool that is designed to help teens recognize hazards on the road. Research shows that more than 40% of all teen driver crashes are a result of not recognizing hazards while driving.

With Road Aware, teens can safely practice their skills in a variety of driving scenarios, including residential neighborhoods, downtown streets, cities and highways.

Each practice drive varies in difficulty and the amount of time to complete.

Getting Started

To begin using Road Trips and Road Aware:

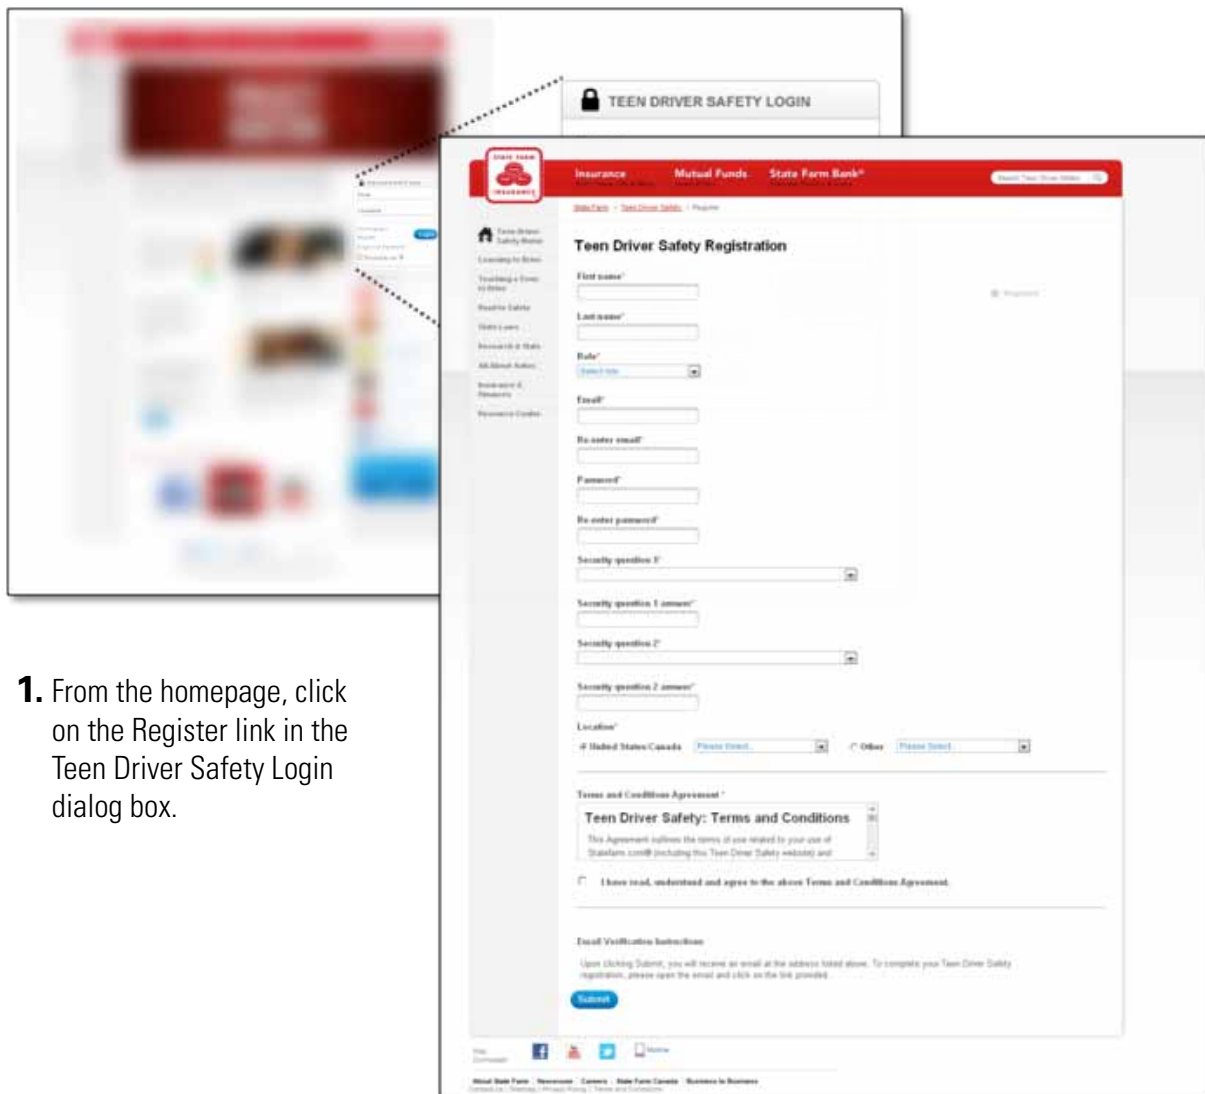

1. Register and sign on at teendriving.statefarm.com
2. Click My Tools and enroll in Road Trips and/or Road Aware

To register, you must have a valid e-mail address. Since you will sign on to the website using your e-mail address, everyone must use their own unique e-mail address.

Wondering why you need to register? Road Trips and Road Aware are tools designed to help teens and parents throughout the entire learning-to-drive process. By registering, you will be able to save your progress in the tools so that you won't have to start from the beginning each time you log on. Additionally, registered users can also rate content and update their profile.

The following information will walk you through the registration and enrollment processes.

- Clicking on Launch will launch the Road Trips tool.
- Clicking on Manage will allow additional Mentors to be invited to mentor the teen (see Managing Your Support Groups).
- Clicking Create Group allows a group to be created for another teen. Each teen being mentored has a support group.

Managing Your Road Trips Invitations

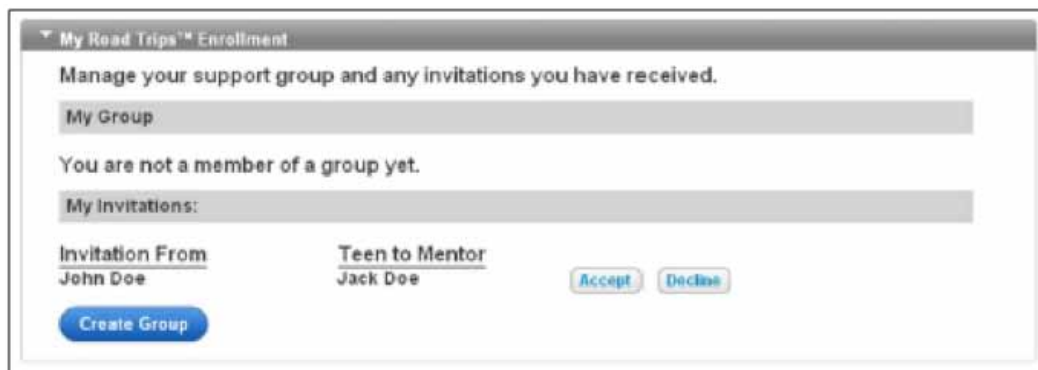

1. If you have a pending invitation to join a support group you will see an indicator of the number of pending invitations on the Teen Driver Safety homepage.

- To manage the invitations, click My Tools.
- If you have not enrolled in Road Trips, you will see the Enrollment screen from Step 3 in the Enrollment instructions. Click Enroll.

2. Accept or decline your pending invitations. You may also choose to not take any action on your pending invitations.

- If you accept an invitation, you will become a member of the support group you have been invited to.
- If you decline an invitation, the invitation will be removed and you will not become a member of the support group.
- If you click Create Group, you can create a new support group (see steps 4, 5, and 6 from the Enrollment instructions).

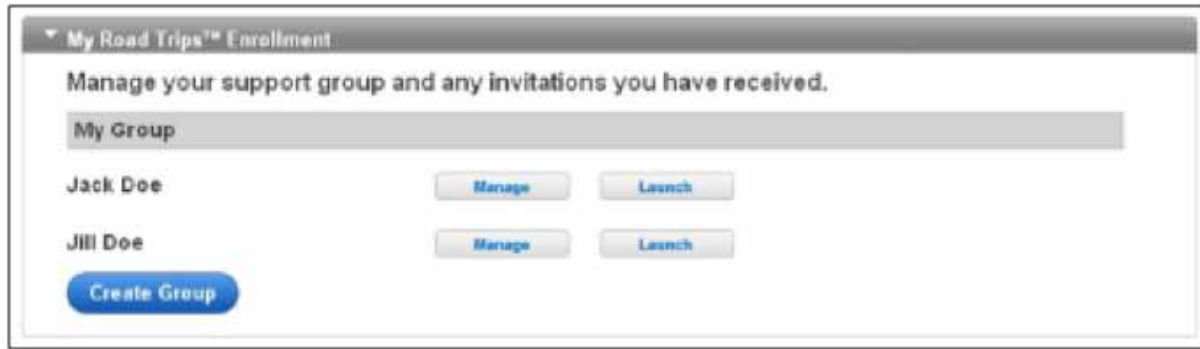

Managing Your Road Trips Support Groups

1. To manage your existing support groups, begin by clicking My Tools on the Teen Driver Safety homepage.

- Clicking My Tools will allow you to manage your existing support group(s). Managing a support group allows you to invite additional mentors to join the support group or to resend invitations.
- Clicking the Launch button will start the Road Trips application for the teen driver support group displayed in the dropdown box.

2. Click Manage next to the teen driver's name to manage the support group for that teen driver.

3. Manage the support group you selected.

- Click Invite More Mentors to send invitations to mentors to join the support group.
- Click Resend to resend an invitation to the listed teen driver or mentor. Clicking Edit allows editing the e-mail address before resending an invitation.
- Clicking the support group tabs will allow you to manage the support group for the teen driver indicated on the tab.
- Clicking My Road Trips will display the support groups in list format.

Road Aware Enrollment

1. Log into the Teen Driver Safety website using the account created during Registration.

2. Click My Tools.

3. Click Enroll in the Road Aware section.

4. Click Launch.
